AMERICAS 2025

AGENCY, ENERGY & INFRASTRUCTURE FINANCE

HOSTED BY

TXF PROXIMO UXOLO

APRIL 1-2

Roll your way to the hottest deals in Energy, Infrastructure & Export Finance across the Americas!

Get ready to spice up your pipeline - join us in Miami in April to blaze a trail. Picture this: a curated guest list of the most important exporters, borrowers, infrastructure and energy developers and project sponsors; equity investment funds; institutional investors; debt providers; ECAs and more all under one roof for two days of unparalleled origination opportunities that will set the rhythm for the year ahead. This is your chance to get the inside track with the most active dealmakers in Latin and North America to identify key origination opportunities. This is the place where connections are forged and contracts are sealed.

HOT TOPICS UP FOR DEBATE INCLUDE:

- Upcoming US Elections: Political risk, what is the impact on credit finance, infrastructure and renewables? How will renewables and emerging energy transition technologies fare? The market has recently attracted ECAs, but will things change following elections and how will this affect US EXIM?
- Untied Products: Clients are asking for more flexible, untied products from ECAs. Who is offering these, and what impact do they have in the Americas?
- Energy transition: what does it look like in the Americas? How will ECAs and DFIs work with the pure project finance market to make it happen?
- Latin America presents an abundance of infrastructure and renewable energy investment opportunities for global players. Political risk, regulatory reforms, proliferation of sustainability linked finance, climate mandates and ESG and growing bankability of new technologies constantly affects the way money flows into projects in the region.
- Data center boom is a huge investment opportunity. What are the destinations, what are the best projects, how do investors see them going forward?
- Chile is a great regional success story, the renewables boom continues despite the Chilean DiscoPPA crisis of 2022, battery energy storage systems (BESS) are currently the big focus
- Mexico new president, the industry seems cautiously optimistic positive signals for renewables, nearshoring - American firms moving manufacturing from China to Mexico, still flagged as a big impending trend
